I have no objection to environment ideas, however in the right place. Our county is reliant on tourism to large extent, and that should be of concern in any development. This is an area of natural beauty, regardless what the companies involved in the wind and solar farm development think of it. Come to see what exactly we do here, farming, tourism and general businesses are all here, all want renewable ideas put forward, so let's work together in this and not behind our backs, as I fear is going on right now. The people's voice must count for something surely, we live in a democratic country, you must respect that.

I look forward to the next meeting where we can stand up and have a say.
