Power to grant licences

The Protection of Badgers Act 1992 fully protects badgers and their setts and makes it an offence to kill, injure or take a badger, to cruelly ill-treat a badger or to interfere with a badger sett. However, the Welsh Government has authority under Section 10(2) and (3) of the Act to issue licences to:

interfere with badger setts for:

1. the purpose of any agricultural or forestry operation;
2. the purpose of any operation to maintain or improve any existing watercourse or drainage works, or to construct new works required for the drainage of land, including works of defence against seawater or tidal water, and
3. controlling foxes in order to protect livestock and penned game

kill or take badgers or to interfere with their setts for:

1. the purpose of preventing the spread of disease; and
2. the purpose of preventing serious damage to land, crops, poultry or any other form of property

The Natural Resources Wales are also a licensing authority under the 1992 Act.

They are responsible for issuing licences for the following purposes:

1. scientific or educational purposes for the conservation of badgers;
2. for the purpose of any zoological gardens or collection;
3. for the purpose of ringing or marking badgers
4. for the purpose of any developments as defined in section 55(1) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990;
5. for the purpose of preservation, or archaeological investigation, of a monument scheduled under section 1 of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Area Act 1970;
6. for the purpose of investigating whether an offence has been committed or gathering evidence in connection with any proceedings before any Court; and
7. for controlling foxes in order to protect released game or wildlife.

Arrangements for the granting of licences

If the licence you require is one for which the Welsh Government is the responsible licensing authority, with the exception for a licence to prevent the spread of disease, please complete the 'Protection of Badger Act: Application for a Licence to interfere with setts for the purpose of conducting forestry operations' form as fully as possible and send it to the Welsh Government, Land, Nature and Forestry Division, Rhodfa Padarn, Llanbadarn Fawr, Aberystwyth, Ceredigion, SY23 3UR. Alternatively, you can send the form via email Wildlife@gov.wales. You may then be contacted by a Wildlife Adviser in order to gather further information and a site visit may be carried out. Once all the relevant details have been considered by the Welsh Government, a decision will be taken within 30 working days of receipt of your completed application form on whether a licence is warranted and, if so, what action should be allowed to be taken under licence.

Completing the application form

The following notes are intended only as guidelines to help you complete the application form as fully as possible.

Section 6 - Forestry operations:

1. for forestry operations you should give a description of the work you need to carry out. This may include situations where normal forestry operations such as clear-felling and thinning are being impeded; or where roads/tracks are being undermined and therefore posing a danger to vehicles; or new tracks are required to be installed.
2. if you know the date you require a licence please include a start and finish date

Section 7 - details of badger sett(s)

This should include information for each sett identified. Enter the location, size and extent of sett and any signs of badger activity. If possible please include a map or plan of suitable scale showing where the badger sett(s) are located.

Section 9 - arrangements for working around badger setts

Please complete section 9a and 9b and if your method or working is NOT listed please supply your information under “other” in section 9b. If supporting information, such as an engineer’s or surveyor’s report is available then this should be provided with your application form.

Licensing Conditions

The licence conditions will vary depending on the nature of the work to be licenced. However, in all cases the following licence conditions will apply:

1. any person authorised by the licensee to carry out the work permitted by the licence shall provide the licensee with such information as is necessary to enable the licensee to provide the report referred to at (b) below;
2. the licensee must provide details of each operation taken under the licence to the Welsh Government, Land, Nature and Forestry Division no later than the 14th day after the expiry of the licence; and

3. licensee shall permit a Welsh Government official, accompanied by such persons as he/she considers necessary for the purpose, on production of his/her identification on demand, to be present during any operations carried out under the authority of the licence.

Offences

Failure to comply with the terms of a licence may make the licensee liable to prosecution for an offence.

Consultation

Under the Protection of Badgers Act 1992, the Welsh Government is obliged to consult with the Natural Resources Wales (NRW), the statutory conservation agency, on the Welsh Government licensing policy and the circumstances in which licences may be granted. This does not mean that the Welsh Government is obliged to consult NRW on each licence application. In general, NRW will only be consulted in unusual or novel cases.

Handling of your Information

All of the information you provide to the Welsh Government relation to your licence application will be processed and managed by us in accordance with our obligations and duties under the:

- The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (Regulation (EU) 2016/679);
- Data Protection Act 1998;
- Freedom of Information Act 2000;
- The Environmental Information Regulations 2004; and
- All other laws relating to access to information.

Your information, including your personal information, may be the subject of a freedom of information request by another member of the public. When responding to such requests we may be required to release information, including your personal information. Before responding to such requests we would consult with you to seek your views on release, though the final decision will rest with the Welsh Government.

If you are making an application on behalf of landowners/occupiers you should make them aware of the Welsh Governments data handling requirements.

Data Protection Privacy Notice

Background

The Protection of Badgers Act 1992 fully protects badgers and their setts and makes it an offence to kill, injure or take a badger, to cruelly ill-treat a badger or interfere with a badger sett. However, under these Acts it is permissible to issue licenses to interfere with a badger sett and to take or kill a badger. Therefore a licences system has been established to evaluate, issue and monitor these licenses.

Upon receipt of the personal data from the applicant the Welsh Government becomes the data controller for it.

The personal data that will be collected and held includes:

- Personal details such as name, address and telephone number.
- Whether a licence has previously been sought and given.
- Whether you are the owner / occupier of the land covered by the licence.

What do we do with your information?

In our remit as data controller, the Welsh Government uses the information received in the application form to evaluate the application, issue and monitor any licence granted to interfere with badger sett and to kill or take a badger to prevent serious damage to property. These purposes are necessary so as to enable us to carry out this public task set under the Protection of Badgers Act 1992.

Who do we share your information with?

The WG is obliged to consult with Natural Resources Wales (NRW) regarding the circumstances in which licences may be granted. Your personal data is not transferred outside the UK.

How long will we keep your information?

These Badger licencing files will be retained for 6 year period from the date the licence expires or revoked or the application is refused.

Your rights in relation to your information

Under data protection legislation, you have the right:

- to be informed of the personal data held about you and to access it.
- require us to rectify inaccuracies in that data.
- to (in certain circumstances) object to or restrict processing.
- for (in certain circumstances) your data to be 'erased'.
- to (in certain circumstances) data portability.
- to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) who is our independent regulator for data protection.

For further information about the information which the Welsh Government holds and its use, or if you wish to exercise your rights under the GDPR, please see contact details below.
