Dear

Request for Information: ATISN 15004 – Higher Risk Coal Tips in RCT

I wrote to you on 18 March regarding your request for information.

Your request

1. Location of the 64 high-risk coal tips in RCT

Our response

The information requested is being withheld under Reg12(4)(d). This states:

12.—(4) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a), a public authority may refuse to disclose information to the extent that—

(d) the request relates to material which is still in the course of completion, to unfinished documents or to incomplete data

Guidance from the Information Commissioner has confirmed that “Material which is still in the course of completion can include information created as part of the process of formulating and developing policy, where the process is not complete; draft documents are unfinished even if the final version has been produced; data that is being used or relied on at the time of the request is not incomplete, even if it may be modified later”. I can confirm that this is the case with the information you have requested. It is the intention to publish all of the information after it has been completed. The information is expected to be published in the coming months.

Regulation 12(4)(d) is a qualified (public interest tested) exception. Even if the exception is engaged, public authorities must go on to apply the public interest test set out in regulation 12(1)(b). A public authority can only withhold the information if the public interest in maintaining the exception outweighs the public interest in disclosing the information. Because of this, consideration has been given to the effects of disclosure to the world at large rather than any personal interest you may have in being provided with the information.

Public Interest Test

The Welsh Government acknowledges the presumption in favour of disclosure under Regulation 12(2) and we acknowledge there is a public interest in openness and transparency within Government, particularly in terms of ensuring transparent and accountable government by disclosing how the Welsh Government utilises its resources, spends public money and that both are invested wisely on behalf of the people of Wales.

As outlined above, the Welsh Government has committed to publishing the information once it is complete. At that time, it will be published in a co-ordinated manner, with supporting contextual narrative, to all people at the same time. An accelerated release of incomplete material will result in inaccurate and incomplete information being disclosed prematurely, thus misleading the public.

I do not think it is in the public interest to release incomplete data prematurely. Rather, I believe the public interest would be best served if the information were released to all people at the same time, together with supporting contextual narrative.

To conclude, the Welsh Government believes the balance of public interest to withhold the information outweighs the public interest to release it for the reasons outlined above. The information has therefore been withheld under Regulation 12(4)(d) of the EIRs.

If you are dissatisfied with the Welsh Government's handling of your request, you can ask for an internal review within 40 working days of the date of this response. Requests for an internal review should be addressed to the Welsh Government's Freedom of Information Officer at:
