Hi Jane,

I hope you're well.

I'm getting in touch from The Big Issue. We have been writing about a universal basic income for many years and are keen to cover the universal basic income pilot announced last week in Wales.

While I know the work you are putting into the pilot is at an early stage at the moment, I wanted to ask if you would be interested in writing a short op-ed piece for The Big Issue about why the time is right for a UBI in Wales and what issues the Welsh Government is hoping a UBI can tackle.

Please let me know if you are interested. The Big Issue has an ongoing interest in a universal basic income and would be keen to get updates on the pilot as it progresses.

Thanks,
