

Email to Welsh Government official from RSA Scotland

I hope you are keeping well in these strange and challenging times – fingers crossed we are starting to move in the right direction now. I've been delighted to see the support from the First Minister for exploring basic income (and the success of the UBI Pledge which was launched during the Senedd campaign), and wondered if it would be useful to touch base/discuss ways we could support taking that agenda forward? As you'll know the Scottish Government has also been very supportive, so there are a number of strands we could explore.

Best wishes
