Dear Jane,

I have been a social entrepreneur over the last 11 years or so. Work futures is my key innovation theme. We have a mechanism to create socially valuable work for anyone and pay them a minimum wage.

I want to investigate UBI pilots that use UBI to fund new, socially valuable work which enable individuals to transition to more lucrative, sustainable employment opportunities.

We have a track record. Have a look at our latest cohort of young adults who have transitioned from Universal Credit to our Work Platform using the DWP Kickstart scheme.

May we have a chat to explore the intersection of this work to your Welsh UBI pilot please?
