What is Continuing NHS Healthcare?

Continuing NHS Healthcare is a package of on-going care. It is arranged and paid for by the NHS.

It is also called CHC for short. We will call it CHC throughout the rest of these easy read booklets.

CHC is for people who have care needs which are mostly health related. This might be because:

- you are disabled

- you have a long-term illness

- you have had an accident.

CHC can be provided wherever you live, like:

- your own home

- a care home

- a hospice – a place where people get specialist care and support when they are close to the end of their life.

- in prison.

CHC can be provided by a range of health and care workers. For example, a nurse, therapist, or personal assistant.

Your Local Health Board is responsible for checking if you are eligible for CHC.

Eligible means you have the right to get CHC because you meet the conditions.

There is only 1 condition you need to meet to be eligible for CHC. You must have a primary health need.

You might have lots of different needs. A primary health need means your care needs are mostly health related.

Your Local Health Board is responsible for doing an assessment to check if you have a primary health need.

The assessment is when health and social care professionals work together to decide what your needs are. And how your needs should be met.

For more information about CHC assessments please read booklet 2.

For more information about eligibility please read booklet 3.

Who pays for what?

If you have long lasting care needs, your care will either be the responsibility of:

- the NHS

- your Local Authority

- or both.

NHS

All NHS services are free. So, if you are eligible for CHC, the NHS will pay for all your health and social care.

If you live in your own home:

- The NHS will pay for all your healthcare services. Like nursing care and therapists.

- The NHS will pay for your social care needs. Like help with washing and dressing.

- The NHS will not pay for your rent or mortgage, food or general household costs.

If you live in a care home:

- The NHS will make a contract with your care home. This is a written legal agreement between the NHS and your care home.

- The NHS will pay your care home to provide all your health and social care services.

- And the NHS will pay your care home for your accommodation fees – like rent and food.

Your Local Health Board is responsible for planning and providing your CHC care package.

Local Authority

If you do not have a primary health need, your care and support could be provided by your Local Authority. Through Social Services.

This will happen if you mainly have social care needs.

These services are means-tested.

Means-tested means the amount of money you have can affect whether you get something for free. Or whether you must pay something towards it.

Your means, or your money, includes things like how much you earn, how much you have in savings and how much you own.

If the Local Authority provides your care and support, you may have to pay something towards it.

Do I need to pay towards my care home costs if I am eligible for CHC?

No, but you can choose to pay for some extra things, like:

- Extra services. For example, extra physiotherapy sessions, on top of those agreed in your care plan.

- Accommodation that costs more. For example, a bigger room.

The money you pay for extra things like this is sometimes called a top-up fee.

They are separate payments that you arrange with your care home provider.

These extra payments are completely your choice.

You should not pay for things because you do not get enough money from your Local Health Board or Local Authority to meet your needs.

If your care home asks you to pay for extra services that you have not agreed to, contact your Local Health Board straight away.

You can find the contact details for your Local Health Board on pages 16 to 20.

Or you can find them on the NHS Direct Wales website: www.nhsdirect.wales.nhs.uk/localservices/localhealthboards.
