Good morning REDACTED,

We are more than happy for you to send us a notification of the beacon number and vessel details as soon as a unit is despatched to an owner – this would be an informal notification. This will allow me to identify the unit as soon as any location reports are sent through to our system, but we still need an installation report as soon as the unit is installed to formalise the association with the vessel – until this is done the vessel will not be compliant with the legislation (even if we can see the beacon moving around).

Many thanks,
REDACTED

Hi REDACTED,

I think the method we agreed to register the new Welsh VMS trackers with yourselves could possibly have problems.

I'm concerned that fishermen will forget to contact us once they have installed them, or something will be missed, and they will be fishing without you receiving the data.

I would like to register them on the system as we send them the trackers, and that way you should begin to receive data as soon as they are powered on the boat.

The earlier confusion was because I had charged it at the Southampton office before sending, but if we don't do this, then it should create havoc at your end.

Is this OK?

Best regards

Good morning REDACTED,

Please can you tell me which vessel the Maritime Systems beacon number REDACTED relates to? It arrived on the REDACTED on Friday – still on land, so probably not yet installed (hence no installation report yet)?

Thank you,

REDACTED
