Understand

We wrote this report because we want to understand what caused these deaths.

Sometimes when people die it is described as avoidable.

This means if they had different care they might not have died.

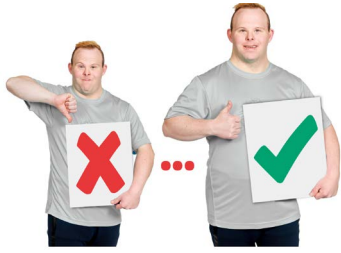

We want to learn about why people with a learning disability in Wales died.

We want people to be looked after better when they are ill so that less people have avoidable deaths.

We would like to write a report every year.

So people keep learning and making things better.
