Appreciation tool

This tool is a good way to start any PCP process, for example an annual review or preparing a one-page profile.

It helps us to find out what others like and admire about a child's character and personality.

What we like and admire:

- can let you know what I want
- determination to solve a problem
- resourcefulness to find a way of getting what I need
- infectious giggle
- will try to be as independent as possible
- affectionate
- confident and outgoing
- wants to learn
- very funny
- empathy with friends

Skills, gifts, talents and interests:

- fine motor skills in activities
- independence and determination to solve maths puzzles
- trying really hard with my communication
- curiosity and the way they explore the environment
- ability to play with or do something of interest for a long period of time
