About us

Welsh Government, Procurement Delivery lead on developing collaborative public procurement for Wales. Working in partnership with Welsh Local Government, and other public sector stakeholders we have developed the Wales Collaborative Procurement Pipeline. This contains some 31 Welsh public sector let and managed agreements for use across the Welsh public sector.

Along with our partners, Procurement Delivery shape commercial agreements in seven core areas of public spend where national, regional and local collaborative agreements are beneficial to support efficient and effective use of resources.

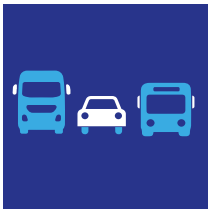

We deliver value through procurement across these seven category areas:

Buildings and Utilities

Digital, Data and ICT

Fleet

People and Corporate

Professional Services

Construction

Food

All our agreements are designed to meet the needs of customers, deliver value for money, and embrace the Well-being of Future Generations Act.

Delivering solutions that support your priorities

We will leverage collaborative procurement activity in Wales to maximise long-term sustainable social and economic value outcomes from public spend.

(Wales Procurement Policy Statement, Principle 1)

The Welsh public sector spends over 11.4bn[1] on goods and services. By delivering collaborative procurement agreements for the largest categories of spend, we support public sector organisations to meet Welsh policy priorities and deliver the best value for the Welsh pound.

We ensure that all our agreements meet your needs by:

Fostering local supply chains and supporting the local economy.

Returning value to our communities in Wales by delivering well-being outcomes.

Considering the environmental impact of the goods and services we buy.

Driving innovation by understanding the markets and delivering procurements that consider the long-term needs of our customers.

Ensuring the agreements are designed to both deliver on, and empower you to achieve, the social and economic value that is most important to your organisation.

1 Atamis reported spend, financial year 2022/2023

Our customers

Over 200 organisations from across central government, local government, health, social housing, devolved administrations, education, emergency services and the third sector choose to use us. Collectively they spent over £1 billion through our agreements in 2023-24, and this continues to grow year on year.

Our category teams work closely with customers to make sure we fully understand your commercial and procurement needs, and that we have the right solutions to meet these needs. We're passionate about making sure we can add extra value for you whenever we can.

If you're a Welsh public or third sector body, it's a given that you can use our agreements.

How to access our agreements

The Wales collaborative procurement pipeline has 31 commercial agreements, established in collaboration with our customers to make buying as simple as possible. Each of our commercial agreements' guidance documentation explains how to buy the specific goods and services you are looking for.

Each agreement will be structured differently but here's a brief description of each of our buying options:

Direct award

If there is only one supplier on an agreement, you can place a direct award. This is also possible on some agreements with multiple suppliers.

Further competition

If you're using an agreement with multiple suppliers, you will get the best value by asking suppliers to bid based on your individual needs. It allows you to tailor the requirement, as long as it is within the original scope of the framework.

Dynamic purchasing systems

With our dynamic purchasing systems, you can search online using a range of criteria, to shortlist suitable suppliers. You can then invite them to bid against your detailed specification.

You will find links to each of our agreements within the agreement overview in this brochure.

All agreements are available to public sector buyers via Sell2Wales or through the agreements described within this brochure.
